Bethel College Social Work program is an accredited program through the Council for Social Work Education (CSWE) showing that it meets requirements to prepare Social Work students for licensing in Social Work. All states require that a social worker applying for a license be a graduate of a CSWE-accredited program. Licensing of social work practitioners is under the authority of a designated office in each state. Bethel College Social Work program is familiar with the Kansas state licensing board requirements but cannot guarantee that its requirements are the same as all other states. Students planning to seek licensure in other states are encouraged to meet with Bethel College Social Work department faculty for guidance on how to find information on licensing in other states.

Bethel College Social Work Department has not made, nor is required to make, a determination as to whether our program's curriculum meets the State's educational requirements for licensure in the following states:
